Objective

I'm an entry-level software developer with proficiency in HTML, CSS, Javascript, and React, looking to begin my development career. After 3+ years in education, I've pivoted to focus on scaling my impact through technology. I'm a patient and resilient problem solver with a growth mindset and positive attitude, and I look forward to bringing this into my next challenge!

Skills

Demonstrable portfolio experience with: HTML5, CSS3, SCSS, JavaScript (ES6), React, Bootstrap, Node, Express, MongoDB, and Mongoose.

Working knowledge with: React Native, Material UI, and PostgreSQL.

Projects

FreeUp - (live site - github) - I co-developed this project with another engineer, UX designer, and product manager. This web application helps New Yorkers find and give away free items that would otherwise be thrown out. It was built using PostgreSQL, Express, React, and Material UI.

Banh Mi Mama - (github) - I designed and developed this mobile application. This app allows users to order food from a fictional Vietnamese restaurant. It utilizes React Native, Redux, and React Hook Form.

Descriptify - (live site - github) - I designed and developed this web application. This product helps users create an AI-generated product description to help sell their items. The app utilizes OpenAI API, React, Redux Toolkit, Bootstrap, and Sass.
